Teaching qualifications

Completed training in teaching and learning in higher education

Doctoral Supervision, 2 weeks, 2020.

Advanced course in teaching and learning in higher education, 4 ECTS, 2016.

Introduction to Teaching in Higher Education, 3 ECTS, 2012.

Teaching and supervision

I have a broad and diverse teaching background that spans across various educational levels, encompassing first-cycle to advanced and Ph.D. courses, totaling approximately 2150 clock hours. My teaching portfolio encompasses a range of subjects, including introductory university-level courses, applied ethics, critical thinking, value theory, philosophy of religion, classical works in ethics, political philosophy, and human rights studies. I have experience in giving traditional lectures, interactive seminars, online teaching formats and thesis supervision. My teaching experience transcends disciplinary boundaries, encompassing both philosophers and non-philosophers. In the fall of 2023, I assumed the role of a designated point of contact for students requiring pedagogical assistance. In this capacity, I provided crucial support to students with learning disabilities, ensuring they received the necessary resources and guidance to excel in their studies.

International experience

My international postdoc position was at University of Colorado Boulder with Alastair Norcross and Graham Oddie as my sponsors.

I spent the fall term of 2016 at Humboldt Universität zu Berlin in Germany as a guest of Thomas Schmidt.

I spent the fall term of 2014 at Rutgers University in the US to audit seminars with Larry Temkin, Ruth Chang and Derek Parfit.
